

Project: Utah Transit Authority -- Mid Jordan Light Rail

Recipient: Utah Transit Authority

Location: Salt Lake City, Utah

Purpose: The Mid-Jordan Light Rail project connects the North/South Line in the central part of the Salt Lake Valley with the western side of the valley via stops located in the fastest growing cities in Salt Lake County. It will play a critical role in improving overall regional connectivity. The project will serve Kennecott Land's new smart growth Daybreak community and promote the land use goals of four local cities. The project is part of the regional comprehensive long-range transportation plan and is included in Phase I of the Regional Long Range Transportation Plan. The extension is expected to improve the overall operating efficiency of the UTA transit system, mitigate congestion on highways and surface streets, and improve regional air quality. Accelerated reimbursement would provide funds to accelerate construction and advance design and construction of next tier projects, thus contributing to economic recovery.
